Bass of New Hampshire is a game one.

Senator Lorimer knows now how the big stick feels.

Another awful accident on one of our battleships, with several killed and many more wounded. It is getting to be more dangerous in the navy during peace than in war.

While the Vermont Telephone Co. is making improvements in its service in Barre and Montpelier, it ought to go far enough to restore the toll operator to the Barre office. This having to wait on Montpelier every time one wants a long-distance call takes about so much extra time and adds extra work to the already overloaded lines between the two cities.

A VICTORY FOR PEACE.

According to the dispatches, the United States won five out of seven points in the fisheries contention with Great Britain, but these two are historical and important ones to the United States. But other things enter into the verdict that make it of the greatest importance. The New York World sums it up as follows:—

"While the judgment of the court of arbitration at The Hague on the fisheries dispute between the United States and Great Britain is in a sense a compromise, the main point at issue, that relating to the measurement of bays, is decided in favor of the British. The controversy has had roots that reached far back into colonial days."

"The American contention as to bays was that fishing was permissible in any Canadian waters outside of the three-mile limit. The British held that every arm of the sea must be measured from headland to headland. As some of these bays are extensive and highly esteemed as fishing-grounds, the exclusion of American fishermen from their inner waters will be a sore disappointment to an important New England interest. In other respects, however, the privileges of Americans in Canadian waters will be extended."

"As is the case with most judicial findings, there will be complaint in this instance and probably, as usual, some denunciation of the court, but most people in both countries will accept the verdict cheerfully and abide by it. Many a devastating war has been fought over less significant questions. It is to the glory of the two great English-speaking nations that they have settled with honor and probably substantial justice a long-standing and dangerous difference, just as their own private citizens would have done."

Jingles and Jests

The Summer Girl.

There was a girl in our town and she was good to see; she spent her days in playing games where she got lots of tan, and when she saw the tan was on, with all her might and main, she rushed into a beauty shop and took it off again. —Chicago Evening Post.

Quick Profit.

"How many cows have you now?" inquired the visitor. "Eight," replied farmer Cornshead discontentedly; "all comin' home regular every night to make work for somebody."

"I understand two of your neighbors' cows got bit by railway trains last week."

"Yep. An' he got cash for 'em, too. I don't see how that feller trains his cattle not to shy at a locomotive." —Washington Star.

WILLIAMSTOWN.

Our road commissioner, O. A. Blanchard, tells us that the new iron bridge near the Poole house will likely be ready for use about the 15th inst.

Mrs. Henry F. Erskine is visiting in Berlin just now. We hear the opinion expressed that she may not likely return to southern California this fall.

Clayton, son of Maynard F. Spencer, a recent graduate of our high school, decides to enter Goddard seminary next term. His skill as a violinist will soon appear there.

Patrick Kelly and O. J. Gale are each bringing a tenement house to completion near the entrance to the old-time Enoch Howe woods. Both, we suppose, are to be for rent when finished.

We are told that our newly elected representative, constable Azro A. Reed, is to receive his friends and townfolk in the customary "dry" way at his home Saturday evening of this week.

We hardly think it will be more than a seven days' wonder that our town, which has been thought one of the Republican strongholds, gave a Democratic majority for governor on Tuesday last.

While on his recent western trip, Lewis M. Seaver met an old Williamstownian, who had lived in Oklahoma and who regards that state one of the most wonderful ones in our union, in the way of natural resources.

On account of ill health in his family, our worthy Belgian townsman, Theodore Alexander, thinks he must sell his farm in the northern section of the town. Mr. Alexander in late years has raised lots of good potatoes out of that farm.

The news on Wednesday of the sudden death in Zanesville, O., of Harvey Gay came with a sad surprise to us. Mr. Gay had lived here for a little time, and we think he was well liked by our citizens. We extend to Mrs. Gay the hearty sympathy of her friends here.

There will be a rehearsal of the union chorus Monday evening, Sept. 12, at the home of W. E. Randall. It is hoped that a large number of new members will join this year. The chorus will meet every Monday evening. For further information, see any member of the chorus.

Ed. Dutton, who not long ago was injured, in a hand, while working in connection with a threshing machine, feels compelled now to cancel his engagements for threshing this season. Had as the hand was thought to have been hurt at the time, he may yet escape with no other permanent injury than one finger stiff at the knuckle joint.

While traveling in Kansas recently, Lewis M. Seaver witnessed a most distressing accident. A train that he was on ran over an automobile and killed two men and one woman—the wife of one of the men in the auto. Just how the accident occurred, no one was left who could tell; but it was learned that the owner of the auto had not had it many weeks, and it was suspected that his lack of experience in running it may have been the cause of the trouble.

We wish every granite cutter in the land could go from the dust of stone sheds each day to such a lovely little farm home as stonecutter Maynard F. Spencer has, a little way out of our village on the Brookfield road. Years ago some land, now turned to dust, put out a large number of maples along the road near the Spencer house, making it now one of the loveliest little stretches of road in the town. This, with other features of the landscape, conspires to make the place one of the prettiest about here and especially at this time, when September days are putting in some of their richest work of coloring and tinting forest and field.

Card of Thanks.

We wish to thank our many friends and neighbors for their kind assistance and sympathy during our recent bereavement.

Dr. O. E. Barr, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Barr, Mrs. V. Barr.

The Pure Food and Drug Law has not only brought the foods and drugs of this country up to a higher standard of purity, but it has eliminated the harmful medicines with which this country was flooded.

Such medicines, however, as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, purely a roots and herbs product, will continue its beneficial work among women.

This is Boys' Day at our store. Special offerings at special price reductions; and all laid out ready for you to examine; convenient to try on; and, at these prices, easy to pay for.

If you change your mind, it is easy to get back your change.

F. G. Rogers & Co.

CABOT.

Mrs. Emma Chapman is visiting friends in Barre.

Joe Roy of West Barnet visited old friends last week.

Rae Abbott has gone to Hardwick to commence a winter's work.

Isaac Mann of Walden was a guest at Mrs. Florence Voodry's recently.

Orton Osgood had the misfortune to lose one of his horses last week.

George Houghton took two couples to Barton fair Thursday in his auto.

Miss Louise Norris has gone to Northfield, Mass., to attend the ladies' school.

Henry Cook of St. Johnsbury is stopping with his daughter, Mrs. Carl Scott.

Miss Judith Haines opened the lower village school last week with 26 scholars.

Mrs. Josie Adams spent a week with her cousin, Mrs. Gertrude Farr, in Hardwick.

Mrs. J. G. Pike has returned from Maine, where she went to visit her daughter.

Mrs. Nellie Hayford of Worcester, Mass., has been a guest at T. T. Dow's several days.

E. A. Merritt has exchanged his real estate in Barre for the farm of Charles Preston in Walden.

Cora Lebaron, who has been visiting her sister, Mary, at John Noyes', has returned to Calais.

Mrs. A. B. Hopkins and granddaughter of Corinth have been guests at A. A. Hopkins' for two weeks.

Stanley Kersonson of Barre is clerking for J. T. Drew and will occupy the rooms in J. Woodard's house.

Veterinary William Adams of Hardwick was called to Orlando Heath's last Saturday to see a sick horse.

Seymour Noyes accompanied his two little boys to Littleton, N. H., last week, where they are to attend school.

Mrs. Lester Knapp has returned from North Montpelier, where she visited relatives. Her sister, Alice, returned with her.

Mrs. Millie McIntyre is in Boston and New York for two weeks, purchasing her fall and winter stock of millinery.

Mrs. Dana Perry and daughter, Hazel, and Mrs. Warner Smith and two sons are visiting their mother, Mrs. E. F. Smith.

Mr. and Mrs. Bagley Abbott of Corinth, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Collins, stopped at the Winoski house last week.

S. C. Voodry has a chicken about two months' old, which has never assumed its natural coat of feathers. A few on back of its neck, wings and legs are all it possesses. It is of good size and healthy. It is called a "featherless" variety.

Mrs. Lucina Saxton arrived from Boston, having just returned from her European trip, and has joined her mother, Mrs. Mary Saxton, for a short visit at A. H. Beedle's, before returning to Holyoke, Mass., to assume her duties as librarian there.

Dr. A. C. Bailey has invited the public to an opening air gathering on the grounds adjoining his residence on South Pleasant street on Friday evening, when the lawn will be lighted by electricity, the Green Mountain band in attendance, to furnish music, and Congressman Frank Plimley of Northfield, present to address to company. This general invitation is an expression of Dr. Bailey's appreciation for his recent election as representative of this town.

The adjourned meeting held on Wednesday night, to consider the subject of electric lighting, came to no definite conclusion. After much discussion the preparation of a contract was authorized to be submitted later for action. What the contract should be and with whom placed, was left with the committee, who solicited an expression of the people in regard to the action to be taken, but none was given and the developments for the future are in their hands.

St. H. Minns and Charles Watson of St. Albans, before whom the case of Cora Crampton of Worcester, Mass., against Albert H. Beedle, of this place, and A. D. Thomas of Hardwick, was brought, left here Thursday night for St. Albans. Mr. Watson was the master in chancery; J. H. Minns, court reporter; Cowles and Moulton of Burlington and M. M. Wilson appeared for Miss Crampton, and J. C. Sherburne of this place and Walter A. Dutton of Hardwick for the defendants.

NELSON WAS DISMISSED

But Post Office Clerks Choose Him As Their President.

Chicago, Sept. 9.—Oscar Nelson of Chicago, discharged from the government service July 18, on the ground that he indirectly influenced legislation in favor of the post office clerks, was Wednesday elected president of the National Federation of Post Office Clerks. The specific charges on which Nelson was dismissed from the service were the placing on the bulletin in four divisions of the Chicago post office, a letter, showing that the legislative committee of the American Federation of Labor was trying to secure legislation favorable to post office employees; introducing resolutions in the Chicago Federation of Labor protesting against the overtime being worked by the clerks in the post office and of insubordination in giving to Chicago newspapers information relative to unsanitary conditions in the federal building.

In notifying Postmaster Campbell of Chicago to remove Nelson, the first assistant postmaster general said: "The department deems that his retention would be a detriment to the service."

The next convention will be held at Des Moines, Ia.
